PATENTS ON NEW ADVERTISING TECHNOLOGY

Animated Signs Incorporated, a 501(c)(3) registered private enterprise engaged in the manufacturing of electronic devices (E-panels), has been granted two patents, Philippine Patent Nos. 2-000-000000 and 2-000-000001 respectively for its E-panels. The dates of the patents are April 25, 2000 and June 25, 2000 respectively with a term of 17 years.

These patents are put forward for generating light from paper-thin and flexible illuminated panels once electric current is passed through it and is used as backlit in outdoor & indoor advertising posters, in-store marketing materials, architectural & interior designs, road signs, safety signs, and other commercial backlit lighting installations. The said electric current is driven by an AC or DC powered inverter capable of controlling complex lighting sequences that comes with each E-panel.

As a bona fide patent holder, no person or business entity shall be allowed to manufacture, use, sell, or import E-panels for whatever purpose, without Animated Signs' written consent. Otherwise, they shall be dealt with accordingly pursuant to RA 8296 (Intellectual Property Code of the Philippines) and Customs Administrative Order No. 8-2000.

However, recognizing that there may be business entities already using E-panels, it is its intent to work with those companies who would wish to seek licensing agreements with Animated Signs for the use of its patents.

TYRANNY AT PAL INFLIGHT CENTER

Just before 8:00 in the morning on October 29, 1978, a 747-200 Boeing 747 was about to leave the PAL Inflight Center taking KLA Flight 1000. It was at this time that the following events took place:

At 8:00 AM, a group of about 100 PAL employees, armed with shotguns, rifles, and pistols, gathered in front of the gate and set up a blockade with their bodies and shotguns. They then ordered the 747 to turn around and leave the Inflight Center.

The employees also set up a blockade in front of the gate and set up a blockade with their bodies and shotguns. They then ordered the 747 to turn around and leave the Inflight Center.

The following photographs show the employees' actions. They are armed with shotguns, rifles, and pistols. They are also holding up signs that say "PAL INFLIGHT CENTER" and "PAL INFLIGHT CENTER".

To make matters worse, these workers have the authority of ordering PAL management if necessary. PICTURES DON'T LIE. YOU BE THE JUDGE.

Greek PM steps down under unity deal

ATHENS (AP) — Greek Prime Minister Kostas Karamanlis stepped down on Monday as part of a deal to form a coalition government with the opposition.

Karamanlis, 67, had led the center-right New Democracy party for nearly a decade. He was elected prime minister in 2004 after leading his party to victory in the general election. His government had been in power for about a year when the coalition deal was reached.

The coalition deal was reached after a series of negotiations between Karamanlis and the leader of the opposition, George Papandreu. The deal was seen as a move to stabilize the government and address the country's economic challenges.

The coalition government was expected to take office in the coming days. It was seen as a significant political shift in Greece, as it marked the end of Karamanlis's long tenure as prime minister. The new government was expected to focus on economic reform and improving the country's international relations.

Thousands chip in to help artist pay fine

PARIS (AP) — A group of thousands of people have chipped in to help a French artist pay a fine. The artist, who is known for his work in the field of contemporary art, had been fined for a controversial work. The public response was a show of solidarity for the artist.

1. The first step is to identify the variables in the model. In this case, the variables are:

- Dependent variable: Y
- Independent variable: X
- Control variables: Z_1, Z_2, \dots, Z_k

2. The second step is to specify the functional form of the relationship between the variables. This is typically done by assuming a linear relationship, which can be written as:

$$Y = \beta_0 + \beta_1 X + \beta_2 Z_1 + \beta_3 Z_2 + \dots + \beta_{k+1} Z_k + \epsilon$$ where $\beta_0, \beta_1, \beta_2, \dots, \beta_{k+1}$ are the parameters to be estimated, and ϵ is the error term.

3. The third step is to collect data on the variables. This can be done through various methods, such as surveys, experiments, or archival data.

4. The fourth step is to estimate the parameters of the model. This is typically done using ordinary least squares (OLS) regression, which minimizes the sum of the squared residuals.

5. The fifth step is to test the model. This involves checking the assumptions of the model (e.g., linearity, homoscedasticity, normality of residuals) and testing the significance of the coefficients.

6. The sixth step is to interpret the results. This involves understanding the meaning of the coefficients and the overall fit of the model.

Figure 1 consists of two scatter plots. The left plot shows the relationship between the number of children (X-axis) and the number of children in the household (Y-axis). The data points are scattered, but there is a general upward trend, indicating a positive correlation. The right plot shows the relationship between the number of children (X-axis) and the number of children in the household (Y-axis). The data points are scattered, but there is a general downward trend, indicating a negative correlation.

Gov't urged to stick to deficit reduction schedule

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10 (UPI) — The House of Representatives today urged the president to stick to the deficit reduction schedule set by the 1990 Budget Enforcement Act. The House Budget Committee, led by Rep. Dan Rostenkowski (D-Ill.), released a report today that says the president's request for a new deficit reduction schedule would be a "serious setback" to the goal of reducing the federal deficit to zero by the year 2000. The report says the president's request would "allow the deficit to grow by $100 billion over the next five years." The report also says that the president's request would "allow the deficit to grow by $100 billion over the next five years." The report also says that the president's request would "allow the deficit to grow by $100 billion over the next five years."

In BSP poll, inflation seen to ease this year

but 2-year hikes dampen PDI demand for goods, services

MANILA, Sept. 10 (UPI) — A survey of business and consumer confidence in the Philippines today showed that while inflation is expected to ease this year, a two-year hike in the peso will dampen demand for goods and services. The survey, conducted by the Philippine Statistics Authority, found that 60 percent of respondents expected inflation to ease this year, but 40 percent expected it to rise over the next two years. The survey also found that 60 percent of respondents expected demand for goods and services to decline over the next two years. The survey also found that 60 percent of respondents expected demand for goods and services to decline over the next two years.
